The following was written by Robert Roy of Spirit Technologies, Inc.

Two Feathers Healing Formula (Compound X) is a unique formula that has reached through time, over several hundred years, to meet the needs of an ailing civilization today. It is like a time capsule sent to us from a distant past when knowledge was more of the spirit than of the intellect.

There is a great sincerity and respect for this healing formula at every stage of its preparation. Those who handle the compound, including myself, feel blessed to be a part of an age-old rite that is indeed very special. Still produced in the original Native American manner, each herb is cured in smoke ovens and mixed in wooden bowls. Metal is never allowed to touch the formula as it would destabilize the electrolysis process provided by the components in the compound.

I would like to enumerate some of the ways Compound X has been used, related to us from the experiences of thousands of modern Americans since 1977 and many Native Americans prior to this period. Please read the following information very carefully as it contains answers to many of the most frequently asked questions.

The latest research has shown that the best results have been achieved by taking approximately 600 milligrams of Compound X, an amount that will fill a double "00" vegetal capsule once a day, either one hour before or two hours after breakfast on an empty stomach. It can also be taken just before bed on an empty stomach. Vegetal capsules can be purchased at your local health food store and should be filled only at the moment of use, as prolonged contact with the salve will cause the capsule to melt. I personally use one eighth of a teaspoon of Compound X rolled into a ball and swallowed with 8 ounces of spring water.

The traditional method of use was to take it daily for fourteen days, stop for two and continue taking for another fourteen days. The program of two weeks on and two days off is usually followed until the end of the jar. A two ounce jar would last for six weeks in this manner. This particular regimen has been used for internal malignancies of the liver, kidneys, colon, prostate, female sex organs, breasts, lungs and throat areas. It has also been used for a variety of viral conditions, yeast infections, fungus, flu, colds, strep throat, mouth diseases, parasites, constipation, ulcers, venereal diseases, lupus and much more.

The Native American Producer of this compound prefers the sixteen day regimen, as described above, for a thorough cleansing of the blood, lymphatics, liver, intestinal tract and colon. He also uses a very small amount of Compound X directly on his dry toothbrush, as it works well on gum disease and for removing plaque. I should also mention that his favorite method of ingestion is to put approximately one eighth of a teaspoon of Compound X between small pieces of bread and swallow quickly with fresh water. He believes that while one applies Compound X externally, it should be taken internally as well to balance out the primary condition that brought on the exterior situation.

It is common to feel a slight queasiness in the stomach area for a few hours after ingestion as the body system becomes more alkaline and as certain parasites and bad bacteria die off. Stools usually take on a darker coloration as toxins are released from the body. One may even notice a white mucus in the stools, a sign of yeast (candida) elimination.

Nausea, dizziness, cramping, bloating, and queasiness have been experienced by people with yeast and fungal infections as the die off occurs. When nausea persists and is overwhelming, a person may take 2000 mg. of powdered vitamin C, or some bottled natural fruit juice or even eat some natural fruit, one hour after taking Compound X. With candida problems, most people agree that a multi friendly bacteria (PB8, pro-biotics or megadophilus) from the cooler of your local health food store, should be taken 10 minutes before each meal (3 times a day) for at least 6 to 8 months. From our files of reports from people who have used Compound X over the years, we have gleaned the following basic facts:

When working with any malignancy with a history of more than six months in the body, a problem located in the lower abdominal region or close to the reproductive organs, the salve is used as a douche or an enema, prepared by mixing one quarter level teaspoon of Compound X with two ounces of distilled water. This solution is then held within for at least thirty minutes with douche or all night with an enema, sleeping on one's stomach. Please note that if a person has a very toxic condition of the body, one may want to start with one eighth level teaspoon of salve mixed with two ounces of distilled water for the first three applications of douche or enema. Application can be carried out with a normal enema bag. Some people have found that an air syringe or a simple turkey baster will do as well.

Many have told us of their experiences using the compound topically on warts, moles, plantar warts, and skin tags. The experimenter first cleanses the irritated area with soapy water, applies a small pea-sized amount of Compound X around the base and then covers it with a bandage that can protect it from moisture when bathing. If the compound is a little dry, place a few drops of distilled water onto the skin so the compound can adhere well. In the case of cysts and open or sealed malignant sores, and tumors, Compound X is usually applied directly on the center of the irritated area. This spot covered with Compound X should not be larger than a dime. The bandage is left in place for three days. A slight swelling may occur, and at times yellow toxins may ooze from the covered area. After three days the bandage may be removed and the area cleansed. The area may then scab over and heal. After the scab has appeared many people apply natural vitamin E oil to the area to help with proper skin formation. When the desired result is not achieved in the first application, many have cautiously applied it two or more times. A process used by a naturopathic doctor for the elimination of plantar warts was to apply the compound once for a period of three days, then remove the bandage and scratch an "X" over the plantar wart with a sterilized pin, apply Compound X again and leave for three more days. He states that this process repeated three or four times has usually done away with this type of wart. It has also been reported to us that one half of a level teaspoon of Compound X may be mixed with 2 ounces of distilled water and used to bathe external areas of the body where fungus is present and left on the skin to dry until the next bath or shower, when the process would be repeated.

We would like to mention that your experiences with Compound X products are of great interest to many other people. We would be most happy to receive your comments in 50 words or less please, to make available to others of similar interest. The Native American producer of Compound X has used it once a year since childhood as a great preventative and attributes his robust health and disease free body to this formula.

Dietary recommendations: one should abstain from alcohol, sugar (including white bread, pastries and other refined sugar products) and dairy products while using the compound. If working with a malignancy, people usually avoid red meat and eat plenty of raw vegetables and fruits.

PLEASE NOTE: The distributor and producers of Compound X do not make any claims for the effectiveness of the product nor do they recommend any particular usage. The choice of process used in the various forms of application or ingestion of Compound X products is the sole responsibility of the customer. Favorable results from the use of Compound X products cannot be guaranteed entirely, since each person's disorder or affliction is individual in nature and one must thereby expect results accordingly. In some cases scarring may occur with topical use and the distributor cannot be responsible as this will vary with individuals and methods of application.

Compound X products are offered as nutrient systemic and skin care aids, not medicine. Users of the product should be aware that any use of alcohol while using the compound will nullify its effectiveness and may cause stomach distress. This product should not be used by pregnant or nursing mothers and should be kept from the reach of young children. Compound X has a long shelf life when kept sealed at room temperature and should not be refrigerated. Please use a toothpick or plastic utensil to handle salve. Metal should not touch the compound. Furthermore, we encourage holistic physician consultation for diagnostic determinations.

Flight of the Spirit

Rediscovering ancient philosophies and wisdom brings into focus the universal truths ignored today by most of modern science, These truths are simple yet represent experience and knowledge acquired since the dawn of mankind, when we found the healing remedies we needed in the diverse vegetation mother earth had provided for us. The cultures and traditions of the thirty countries I have visited in my travels have given me a unique opportunity to reawaken this special sight or sense, which is lost to the majority of Westerners who have lost the ability to experience simple truths.

It began with my introduction to oriental philosophy and thought about twenty- six years ago. At the same time, I was introduced to the proper way of eating, and learned the universal laws of macrobiotic diet, the balancing of body, mind, and spirit, as well as the means to strengthen our physical beings. These discoveries in my travels opened a door to my consciousness as I explored different forms of healing. My interest grew, and I began to participate in the natural healing process I saw going on around me.

I returned to America fascinated with all aspects of natural healing, and became engrossed in the successful work Royal Raymond Rife undertook early in this century with his famous Rife Generator. For many years I did research with several young scientists to evolve a working model of the generator that gave us much satisfaction. This, I thought, was an ultimate simple truth. And yet there is always more. Right in my own back yard, so to speak, I met a Native American elder who introduced me to a complex herbal formula held secret by his family for over a hundred years and shared only with members of their family and tribe. At times, profiteers tried to recreate the formula on their own, succeeding only partially. Although these partial formulas enjoyed limited success, they could not come close to the healing capabilities of the original formula.

For a long period of time the original formula was kept from public view because of the respect and sacredness with which the elder and his family held this formula. The elder told me that the formula had been used for a whole host of imbalances of the body: malignancies, tumors, open sores, food poisoning, liver problems, skin infections, colds, flu, as well as wart and mole removal. He recounted his own experience since 1977, when his father passed on to him the secret of the formula. Since then he has seen the formula heal candida albicans, chronic fatigue syndrome, skin malignancies, lupus internal growths, all virus' in origin, and much more.

The formula, he stated, when taken internally is attracted to wherever an imbalance is situated in the system. It begins the healing work immediately while strengthening the body and aiding its ability to overcome the disease. As an enema, it is a great colon and intestinal cleanser and detoxicant, saturating the lower organs like a beneficial balm. Taken as a douche, its cleansing ability is immediate and thorough. The elder also told me of a lady in his tribe with a cervical disease. He suggested that she douche with the compound every other day and take it orally; the regimen healed her completely.

No ancient healing method I have ever encountered could boast of so many uses on the human body. I had found not only a simple truth, but a golden one. Some of us who hear of or experience such a gift of nature in this day and age are happy that the compound may now openly take its place among the many incredible healing gifts of nature. One can only feel sad for the great number who will never share in these treasures and instead will remain mired in modern therapies that do not work and serve only in the degeneration of their spirit.

If I could leave you with one thought, it would be this: Keep an open mind when making health-related decisions. Be still, go within, for some people have greater intellects, but all of us have the same portion of universal wisdom, if we just open the door.

Experiences with Compound X

We must point out that the following excerpts reflect the experiences of individuals. Your results with Compound X may vary and we are making no claims; medical or otherwise.

Dear Robert Roy,

As per our conversation 2/20/95, I am writing to let you know how successful treatments have been with the use of Compound X.

I have used the salve topically for the removal of:

1. moles (some deep-rooted)
2. Warts
3. toenail fungus - (cured after 30 years of unsuccessful treatment).
4. molluscum contagiosum (a young relative was diagnosed and successfully treated)
5. gum abscesses (when mixed with dentifrice).

As ingested it has cured:

1. a persistent virus
2. breast cysts.

Compound X is to me the ultimate cure for any ailment befallen the body in these virulent and polluted times. I am most grateful to have found this wonderful product.

I wish you the very best, and to end with your quote, God Bless!

Most sincerely,

Barbara, Bayport, New York.

To whom it may concern:

I was diagnosed at LA/USE hospital with benign cysts and at one point they were planning to remove my right lung to remove just one cyst. My ex-wife died while having 3 cysts removed from her brain. Tragic loss which could have been avoided by using Compound X. After 10 weeks I have successfully ejected an excess of 30 large to medium cysts (from olive size to raisin size) and approximately 4 cups of black blood and pus. Compound X is a miracle.

I was diagnosed with Melanoma skin cancer, having numerous tumors under the skin and abnormalities in my liver. After using Compound X treatment, the biggest tumors became sores which the cancer drained from. After another x-ray of my liver no abnormalities were found.

Thank you,

Previously I was diagnosed with an abnormal pap smear & vaginal lesions of unknown etiology. After seeing several doctors an OB/GYN of twenty years stated it was the largest lesion he had ever seen. I was treated with topical & oral antibiotics, steroids, surgical excision as well as sexual abstinence. Nothing worked. Then I tried Compound X both orally & in douche form. The lesion was healed within a week & subsequent pap smears have been normal.

Thank You and God Bless!

To whom it may concern:

Last December our beautiful Long-haired calico cat Kassandra was seen by a vet who thought her nose growth was probably cancer. Compound X was used internally for about 1 1/2 months. We also applied it topically by just holding it on her for a few minutes, but she wouldn't tolerate it longer than that. The growth scabbed over and came off several times.

Each time the scab came off some nose tissue was gone. Compound X cured her & the growth is completely gone & I believe the lost tissue is slowly regenerating!

Gratefully yours,

Donna & Dave, Fullerton, California

Dear Rob,

I am thrilled with the results of Compound X. I had a tumor that was wrapped around my optic nerve. Forty doctors had looked at it and all agreed that if it were surgically removed I would lose my eyesight. My nutritionalist recommended the Compound X. My alternative was to lose my eyesight, which I did for a few short and terrifying episodes.

I started taking the Compound internally and as an enema right away. A large boil developed on my back within 10 days and drained. The tumor started to dissolve and was draining through my sinuses, swelling my cheek and eye area. I could even feel it draining right through my eye, a burning sensation, but my eyesight remained intact throughout the whole episode. Afraid of putting a poultice on my cheek and disfiguring my face, I put two poultices over my eyebrow in such a way as to draw the tumor out in a place where it would not leave a noticeable scar. This process lasted for about 8 weeks until the eye stopped draining and the poultice fell off on its own - a healthy layer of pink new tissue had grown underneath the drainage area. There was no infection and at the hospital the MRI revealed no growths. During this time I followed a strict juicing and vegetarian diet aided by supplements. I found I especially craved kale, carrot, celery and beets in a juice or steamed. Spirulina and protein shakes helped with energy levels. The hardest thing was being patient through the process and having people to talk to about it. You all were extremely supportive through this time. Now whenever I recommend it I promise to be available to listen to others' process too.

My eyesight is completely normal and I have returned to work and a prosperous and healthy existence. I go on maintenance with the Compound once a year. But the most important of all - I've shared this remedy with other special people and every one of them is alive and well. Your product is not only a lifesaver but also truly a miracle. God bless all of you most tenderly for the extremely valuable work you do in keeping this product available.
